WAITING FOR THE WORD Perfect weather insured a brave turnout, for the power ents were soon as dry and clean as the side walks, and though the hour for starting was 2 o'clock this afternoon, there was great activity among the forty thousand and more merchants, trikers, lawyers, bankers, stu lents, teachers and o her men of bustness in their preparations for the gigantic Sedate, sober, dignified men of affairs were about, flaunting gaudy badges on their coat-inpels and carrying flags or banners. An astont-hing number of light walking sticks appeared, seemingly almost every citizen carrying one. There was music in the air, too, for brass bands and sheepskin bands played lustily in every street.

sheriff tiorman's 6,000 Deputies.
Six thousand pure-white silk badges filled a big box in sheriff torman's office this morning. They were intended for the special Deputy Sheriff who are to be sworn in for duly at the different polling-places in the city on election day, and bore this inscription in plain blue letters:

SPECIAL DEPUTY SHERIFF. NEW YORK COUNTY.

The letters were italicized, unconsciously denoting, perhaps, that the to-be wearers of the badges are determined in their resolve to permit no buildoring of citizens by the minions of John L. Davenbort and the Pinkerton hirelings of Henry C. Prick.

Sheriff Gorman told an Kyrsinse World reporter that he had sworn in no new special deputy sheriffs to-day up to 10 o'clock, as he
